

Are you asking yourself ... what are the CBCA shortlisted books about this year?

How will I promote them to my students?

What am I going to do for Children's Book Week?

Your answer is found inside...

Inside the Shortlist 2010

Published by CBCA(Qld)

The Children's Book Council of Australia (Qld Branch) has again published its popular resource on the CBCA Short List, Inside the Shortlist 2010.

The Children's Book Council of Australia (Queensland Branch) is very proud to be involved in the fourth annual publication of Inside the Shortlist.

Inside the Shortlist* is an invaluable resource to those promoting quality Australian literature for children and young adults all around Australia. It contains extensive teacher notes on all of the 2010 short listed books, including tips on the use of these books within the anticipated national school curriculum. It also provides practical display ideas for each book and links to relevant websites that will be of use to both school and public libraries. I know you'll enjoy this year's offering and thank you in advance for your support of the Children's Book Council of Australia (Qld Branch).

Tina Cavanough

President – Children's Book Council of Australia (Qld Branch)

Inside the Shortlist 2010 is a creative, educational book of teacher notes on how to use ALL of the CBCA 2010 shortlisted books with children and young adults. Aimed at schools, libraries and those interested in children's literature (including emerging authors and illustrators, student/pre-service teachers and parents), it can be used with children before school to the end of secondary school.

It includes an overview, plot synopses of the 30 shortlisted books, intended readership, media used for the book illustrations, practical ideas that complement the curriculum – including the display ideas and links for which it is widely valued.

I found the Teaching Applications the greatest asset for me as a teacher-librarian who runs out of ideas easily. There were many creative but practical, curriculum-related ideas that were used with classes during the weeks preceding Book Week. Overall, this publication is a must-have resource for every library with its multitude of teaching and display ideas. It is an invaluable asset to the promotion of children's literature in general. Anne Flanagan TL

The links to publisher notes and websites extend the notes of the book. Display ideas are really fabulous. TLs are always looking for these. Notes are always great ... I like that there are page numbers for specific events. If a TL doesn't have time to read the whole book they can at least get the gist of it with the notes, and references to particular sections. Overall I think it's a high quality production. I was really impressed. Megan Daley, National Vice President, CBCA
